

Stolen Checks Cashed By Forger Following Theft of Firm's Money

A none-too-subtle forger is cashing paychecks that he stole from the office of DeSai Plating works, it was learned yesterday.

Six blank checks were stolen this week, presumably at the same time that $24 was taken from the petty cash fund in a desk in the office of William DeSai, owner of the Berks street firm.

TOWN TO HOST POSTMASTERS ON MONDAY

225 Officials Slated to Arrive, Take Tour

Nearly 225 Pennsylvania postmasters will come to Pottstown on Monday during their State convention.

This was announced yesterday by J. Alfred Marquet, Pottstown postmaster, who is on the general committee for the convention, which will have its headquarters in Reading tomorrow through Tuesday.

The postmaster will come in buses, leaving Reading at 2 p. m. and arriving at Pottstown at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. James I. Wendell, Pottstown Historical society president, has arranged to have guides to escort the postmasters through the historic Pottstown home, from 2:30 to 3:15 p. m.

From Pottstown, the postmasters will go to the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant, where they'll tour from 3:30 p. m. until 5 p. m., when they will be guests of the company at dinner in the plant cafeteria. They will be greeted by Roger S. Firestone, president of Firestone Plastics company.

Back in Reading that night, the postmasters will listen to entertainment including a concert by the Pottstown band.

Marquet is handling the Pottstown end of the convention for the Pennsylvania State chapter, National Association of Postmasters.

ALL 67 counties will be represented. Montgomery county Postmasters association, which is larger than that of any other county, is expected to send a party.

J. A. Kirlin to Take Oath as Constable

Patrolman John A. Kirlin will be sworn in as constable in the Third ward at the courthouse, Norristown, Monday morning.

He was appointed Thursday by Judge William F. Dannhefer.

Citizens of the ward petitioned for the appointment. They asked Kirlin be named to fill the unexpired term of David Hoffman, who was elected constable in Nov. 1949.

Petitioners pointed out Hoffman never has qualified for the post and it has been vacant since the time of his election.

HE WILL TAKE his oath in the office of Louis V. Dorp, clerk of courts.

As constable, Kirlin will serve warrants and subpoenas in the Third ward.

The tall, slender patrolman has served on the borough force for the past two years.

He was a guard for two years at the Eastern State penitentiary, Gratersford, before joining the Pottstown force.

Go On... Eat! It'll Grow Feathers!

Like a mother with a baby, 4-year-old Jay Roedel, 24 East Fourth street, shows these baby owls what they should do with their mouths, while his eyes seem to be telling them, "Go on, it's good for you." The baby owls tumbled from a hollow in a dead tree that the four-year-old's father, Roedel, and Allen Levingood, 25 East Fourth street, were cutting down along North Manatony street this week. The mother owl, which had a huge wingspread, flew away and hasn't been seen since. The owl-lets are kept in a former rabbit pen fastened to the wall of the Rotz' garage. The boy and his big sister, Betsy, ten, have been giving them worms, ground beef and water, as the little owls shown here are getting. Mrs. Rotz said her backyard is "all dug up from all the kids in the neighborhood for blocks around getting worms for them." When the owls are out of infancy, she said, they will be turned loose in a woods.

YOUTH INJURED ON MOTORCYCLE

Borrowed Vehicle Slams Into Guard Rail at Monocacy

A borrowed motorcycle late yesterday afternoon ran out of control on loose stones, slammed a guard rail and sent a Birdsboro RD 1 youth to Memorial hospital.

Leonard McMullen, 17, took a ride on a friend's motorcycle along Old River road, Monocacy, shortly after 5 o'clock.

It was sticky and warm and McMullen wanted to cool off in the breeze, he said.

He borrowed the "cycle from John Hohl, Birdsboro RD 1, and went for a short ride. When he went to make a "U" turn on Old River road, the front wheel of the "cycle gave way in the soft dirt, and hurtled him into a guard rail.

The rail saved him from

Fog-Making Machine's First Tryout Draws Crowds to See Sprayer Work

"Come to the window and see, Maw! Here comes that fog-making contraption."

This seemed to be the general reaction last night as the borough's newest mechanized device, the fog machine, made its way through the North End of Pottstown.

It was the first public appearance of the sprayer and the curious of that area interested in seeing where their money was being spent lined the sidewalks and porches to give the machine the once over.

Even the children investigated the device, only more so than the older people. They followed it from block to block and street to street.

BENJAMIN STEELE, the borough's health officer, was at the controls of the new jeep, purchased to haul the fogging apparatus.

He reported that everything went "rather well." He said the machine ejected a bank of fog which covered the entire block in some areas, while in the streets where homes were constructed, the fog bank was limited because of the structures.

The operation got underway at 8:30 o'clock, according to Steele. An hour was taken off for mealtime and at 6 o'clock the machine was in business again until 9 o'clock.

In that space of time, Steele and his assistant, Clair E. Yergler, covered all of the northeast section.

Residents Awaken To Thunderstorm

A thunderous crescendo augmented with brilliant flashes of lightning greeted an awakening Pottstown early yesterday morning.

It was one of Mother Nature's most dramatic displays thus far this Spring. As the thunder rumbled across the heavens, the lightning zig-zagged between the darkened clouds.

The storm had been brewing for about two hours before it

Car Skids, Hits Pole

Wet roads after yesterday morning's pie-down downpour led to this accident on Route 83 near Kenilworth. The driver, Mrs. Dorothy Bilinski, Pottstown RD 2, was going to work when her car skidded across the wet highway into this "phone pole. Mrs. Bilinski was admitted to Memorial hospital. Looking over the damage, is Ruth Ann Riley, who lives nearby.

UNION LEADERS ARE THUMPED IN ELECTION

Some Officials Handed Surprise Setbacks In Voting

900 IN AMALGAMATED LOCAL CAST BALLOTS

Election returns from Amalgamated Local 614 (CAW-CIO) and the Spicer production and maintenance unit of the amalgamated union last night sent a number of veteran union leaders to defeat.

More than 900 members voting in the tight amalgamated contest re-elected incumbent Clyde Bertolo union president over John A. Shannor by a 14 vote.

When the final ballot was counted at 11:30 o'clock last night, Bertolo, one-term president, had 475 votes and Shannor, former school board member and the union's recording secretary for six years had 461 ballots.

Incumbent Robert R. Kemp, chairman of the Spicer shop and production unit, was handed a thumping setback by Blair F. Miller.

Miller received 334 votes. Kemp finished with 185.

L. Ray Conway won a 131-vote victory over Martin DePaoli for recording secretary of the amalgamated local.

RUSSELL SALTZER, incumbent, was high man in the three-way race for trustee. He finished with 334 votes to 306 for Harry Frederick and 276 for Ralph Trainer.

Shaner, business agent; David Bechtel, financial secretary-treasurer; Carl Herbine, vice president; Henry Knopp, sergeant-at-arms, and James Kelly, guide, were nominated; unopposed this past May 10. Their names did not appear on the amalgamated ballot.

Surprise victor in the battle for Spicer unit secretary was "Ace" Bianchini who won over Harry Travis, 219, and Andy C. Glutz, 155.

James "Whitey" Cannel led a field of seven in the vote for unit officer at large. He coasted home with 470 votes and was followed by Frederick with 337 and Herbine with 295.

Herbine was the only incumbent re-elected. The three successful candidates in the race for unit officer at large will join Chairman Miller, Vice Chairman Saltzer, who was unopposed for re-election; Bianchini and Stephen Lazenski, sergeant-at-arms to compose the seven-member bargaining committee.

Unsuccessful candidates in the bid for unit officer at large were John Matthews, 277; William Antonio, 284; Harold Faust, incumbent, 176, and John "Moose" Koren, 257.

Officials bickered last night over the possibility of several run-offs in the hotly contested election, especially in Saltzer's narrow victory in the three-way race for trustee.

Polls opened at East End Quoit club for members of the Spicer unit at 10 o'clock Thursday night and closed two hours later.

Polls were open yesterday from

Knause Urges Council Meet If Lot Stays Same

J. Wayne Knause, Republican leader in borough council, declared yesterday he would demand that a special meeting of council be held Monday or Tuesday if nothing is done before then to clean up the junk-infested lots owned by the burgess's brother.

The lots, at Morris and Price streets and at Keim and Price streets, have been roundly criticized by neighbors. The past May 11, council directed Burgess William A. Griffith to clean up the junk lot at Morris and Price streets.

It is owned by C. Francis Griffith, 1001 Bellevue avenue.

Knause said he wanted action not only on the Morris street lot but also on the Keim street one, terminating both a "menace."

Since the burgess' brother was notified, Knause said, "The only thing I can notice that has been done was to remove the cement mixer."

"Other than that, I can't see any improvement. He (Francis Griffith) may have moved a little, but I doubt whether it's very much."

Knause went on to declare firmly, "Unless sufficient action is shown to satisfy us that he intends to do something, I'm going to request that the president of town council, Mr. (William H.) Reifsnnyder, call a special meeting Monday or Tuesday evening."

"THIS MEETING would be for the purpose of deciding whether, if nothing has been done by then, Norristown conference for two reasons: 'the burgess' hands.'"

"If nothing has been done, we would also demand an entire cleanup and decide whether to condemn the lot."

Knause said he wanted a cleanup of "not only the Morris street lot but also the Keim street lot."

Sight of Junk Lot Disturbs Observer; Little Clean-Up Seen

If the Morris and Price streets junk lot of Burgess William A. Griffith's brother has been cleaned the Manatony creek must be a brooklet of bubbling perfume.

This was the feeling of one disturbed observer early last night after he inspected the piles of rotten lumber, the shoulder-high heaps of brick, the sheets of rusty tin, the poison ivy and the wild unpruned seedlings which adorn the lot along Morris street.

Burgess Griffith told health and sanitation committee Thursday night he would appeal to his brother, C. Francis Griffith, 1001 Bellevue avenue, to clean up the lot.

The burgess was ordered by council this past May 11 to clean his brother's lot after 21 petitioners called the Morris and Price streets tract a breeding place for rodents, snakes and insects.

AT SUNSET in the soggy air last night the lot looked uncleaned. The old mortar encrusted cement mixer was gone and there was a small dead tree in the middle of the lot, evidently the victim of Francis Griffith's ax.

He and his wife spent part of an evening roofing and rearranging on the lot.

Albert Deicola, Price and Morris streets, who lives on the south side of Morris street, directly across from the lot, said:

Area Woman Hurt When Auto Skids Into Telephone Pole

A 28-year-old Pottstown area woman was injured when she skidded on wet Route 83 near Kenilworth yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Dorothy Bilinski, Pottstown RD 2, was admitted to Memorial hospital with a cut of the right eyelid, abrasions of the knee and a pain in the abdomen.

North Coventry Police Chief Daniel W. Guldin, who investigated, estimated that her two-door sedan had $200-$300 damage when it skidded into a Bell Telephone pole on the slippery, high-crowned road just east of the Edward L. Gruber estate.

Her car skidded across the highway and splintered the pole as she was driving east. The pole had to be replaced.

ROAD MAY BE BLASTED IN FLOODED AREA

Multi-Million Dollar Highway Acts as Dam

DYNAMITING MAY RELIEVE RISING FLOOD CONDITIONS

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 22 (AP)—Gov. Robert Kennon flew over the Louisiana-Texas border near here today to determine whether a multi-million dollar highway should be dynamited to relieve flood conditions.

However, Kennon said after his return to Baton Rouge that he could not tell much from the aerial survey and that a decision would be made tomorrow after receiving an on-the-spot recommendation from the district engineer here. The decision will be made by State Highway Director George Covert.

Lake Charles and Orange, Texas, are linked by U. S. Highway 90 and a break in it would allow tons of flood waters to spill over into marshlands to the south.

The highway built atop a filled-in strip of land running 35 miles from Lake Charles to Orange through swamps is acting as a dam against onrushing flood waters from the north.

MEANWHILE, a third of this port city went under water to wind level height today and mounting dangers caused state police to stiffen their guard against illegal dynamiting of US Highway 90.

The Louisiana governor said on leaving Baton Rouge that "the US engineers think it would help if we blasted a channel through the highway because water that might normally run off is piling up behind it."

Duke of Edinburgh Makes Big Hit With Americans on Tour

BRIZE NORTON AIR BASE, England, May 22 (AP)—The air-minded Duke of Edinburgh visited three US air bases in England today—and made a hit with thousands of Americans.

Airmen's wives, teenagers and members of the WAF—Women's Air Force—strained against guard barriers to catch a close-up of the handsome husband of Queen Elizabeth II.

"Oooh, isn't he good-looking," came the chorus as the smiling Duke rode by in an open jeep or strode about the bases to see what sort of a punch is packed by F86 Sabre Jets and other American planes in the front-line defenses of West Europe.

American children were let out of school to join a welcoming throng of 10,000 at the big US depot at Burtonwood, 200 miles northwest of London. They waved and clapped enthusiastically as the Duke rode by.

HUNDREDS OF Americans, most of them women, waited in a rain for more than an hour at Brize Norton, third and last base of the tour to greet the Duke who recently won his own wings as a pilot.

A sign of disappointment ran through the crowd when he was whisked off in a limousine some distance away.

The Duke's trip was the first official visit by any member of the British royal family to a US air base since the end of World War II.

His first stop was at Bentwaters air base. The Duke got a thrill there as two squadrons of Sabres from the 81st Fighter wing—32 planes in all—whizzed low over the field at more than 400 miles an hour.

Police Go on Alligator Hunt in New Jersey

SUMMIT, N. J., May 22 (AP)—Police of this Northern New Jersey municipality went on an alligator hunt today.

The alligator, three months old and three feet long, could inflict a serious bite, its owner, Mrs. Hendrick Van Rensselaer, told police.

Searchers in Helicopter Find Tot After 49-Hour Ordeal in Woods

MENOMINEE, MICH., May 22 (AP)—Beverly lost her overalls but she still had her doll.

That is a summary of the 49-hour ordeal undergone by 2½-year-old Beverly Kay Bradley from the time she wandered out of a cottage yard Wednesday until she was picked up by a Coast Guard helicopter at 12:15 p. m. today.

The tot was spotted by Comdr. Paul Morasky shortly after he piloted a helicopter from Traverse City to join the search that already had enlisted virtually every available man in Menominee county.

Beverly was lying on an abandoned logging road, tired and dirty and mosquito-bitten, and although she was down to her T-shirt and red underpants she still had the doll she carried when she vanished into the swamp brushland.

Taken into the aircraft, Beverly was flown at once to St. Joseph's hospital here by Ensign John Olson, who landed in the hospital parking lot. Olson said her eyes were open and she was conscious of people around her but offered no conversation.

Shortly afterward, however, after emergency treatment for exposure, she greeted her divorced parents—Mrs. Ocella Bradley of Milwaukee and Paul A. Bradley of Greenville, O.—with the statement:

"I wanna get up."

The happy ending to the search came as hopes for the winsome little girl were fading fast under fruitless ground efforts. The upper peninsula has been swept by rain and thunderstorms since Beverly walked away and more than 300 volunteers, aided by dogs and aircraft, had been unable to pick up any trace of her.

Whether she had been alone and wandering around for the whole time she was lost was not immediately clear. Sheriff Edward Reindl issued a statement in which he said:

"Don't jump at any conclusions and I have nothing to say at this minute, but we covered this area several times and I am positive she was not there before."

BEVERLY CAME north with her grandmother, Mrs. Edward van Kleeck of Milwaukee earlier in the week. When she vanished Wednesday, Mrs. van Kleeck sounded the alarm and a search was begun immediately.

The tot's mother and grandfather flew to join the search the same day, and her father arrived last night after wrecking his car in an auto accident near Plymouth, Wis., enroute from Ohio. He was brought the rest of the way by relays of sheriffs' officers.

Woman Bears Second Baby in Eight Days

GROVE CITY, May 22 (AP)—Mrs. Joseph Saeler has given birth to her second baby in eight days.

Dr. Ralph Fennell said today that Mrs. Saeler of nearby Sandy Lake, who has a double uterus, had a double pregnancy and a double birth. He said the chances for such an occurrence are one in five million. The physician said the babies technically are not twins.

Maj. Gen. Charles C. Curtis, Allentown, Named to Head New 28th Division

HARRISBURG, May 22 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles C. Curtis, of Allentown, today was named commanding general of the newly reactivated 28th Infantry division of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

The 59-year old Curtis, a newspaper advertising director in civilian life, will head the gigantic task of reorganizing the PNG's main body that was federalized nearly three years ago.

The reactivation of the famed Keystone unit means that there will be two separate 28th divisions until the federalized body, now on occupation duty in Germany, is released by the Regular Army.

State Adjutant General Frank A. Weber has fixed a goal of 17,500 officers and men for recruitment in the new 28th.

CURTIS RECEIVED his appointment today in a brief ceremony in the office of Gov. John S. Fine along with his two new chief assistants. Brig. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, Somerset, will be assistant division commander while Brig. Gen. William S. Bailey, Harrisburg, will serve as division artillery commander.

The new commanding general is Pennsylvania's oldest National Guard officer in point of service. His most recent assignment was commander of the PNG's 51st Anti-aircraft Artillery brigade. He was in charge of the Guard's non-divisional troops prior to the 51st's induction into Federal service three years ago. He returned to a serious bite, its owner, Mrs. Hendrick Van Rensselaer, told police. Fluck is the former commanding officer of the 28th division's 110th Infantry division, serving with that unit in Germany until his release from Federal service last month.

Weber indicated that the division's headquarters and all subordinate headquarters would get the first priority of organizations. After that, the various units of the command will follow.

Two Hottest US Jet Aces Fly Homeward

TOKYO, Saturday, May 23 (AP)—The two hottest US jet aces, who between them shot down 30 MIGs, flew homeward today but only because the Air Force ordered it that way.

Both declared they intend to apply for second missions—and more MIG hunting—in Korea once they get back home rather than face the "perils" of possible desk jobs.

The world's first triple ace, Capt. Joseph McConnell Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., with 16 MIGs to his credit, left yesterday for the United States with his former teacher, Capt. Manuel J. Fernandez Jr., of Miami, Fla., who downed 14 MIGs.

Power and telephone lines were down at scattered points during the night, either blown by wind or severed by falling trees.

In East Palestine, about 15 miles southeast of Youngstown, lightning hit the village power plant, cutting off all power for a short time until standby equipment could be put on the line.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 22 (AP)—The small communities of Greenford and New Albany today were picking up tornado-strewn debris and adding up damage which is expected to go over $50,000.

No one was reported injured, but damage to crops, farm buildings, a Grange hall and orchards was extensive.

Power and telephone lines were down at scattered points during the night, either blown by wind or severed by falling trees.

In East Palestine, about 15 miles southeast of Youngstown, lightning hit the village power plant, cutting off all power for a short time until standby equipment could be put on the line.

The blast occurred before dawn. It demolished the car and the garage and ripped part of a wall from the Eyrich home. No one was hurt.

Police at first theorized that someone had planted a time bomb.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22 (AP)—Three Haverford township detectives said today they are satisfied it was the accidental explosion of acetylene gas that wrecked the Chatham park home of Fred Eyrich the past April 17.

Their announcement was the first disclosure that Eyrich had a tank of the gas in the trunk compartment of his car. He planned to use the acetylene for a plumbing job.

The car was locked in the garage when the blast occurred.

DETECTIVES John Scanlon, Edward Olsen and Walter Burgess said they are convinced gas leaking from the tank accumulated in the car and was touched off by an electric spark, possibly from the car's clock.

DEFENSE VALUED ANKARA, TURKEY, May 22 (AP)—Turkish Foreign Minister Fuad Koprulu said today Turkey "attributes the utmost importance" to Middle East defense.

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed the controversial "tidelands" bill into law today, declaring "I will always resist Federal encroachment upon rights and affairs of the states."

The legislation asserts the rights of states to all submerged offshore land within their historic boundaries and gives them authority to develop the oil and other mineral riches lying in the underwater territory.

California, Florida, Texas and Louisiana will benefit especially, since oil wells already have been brought in off their coasts. Generally the historic boundaries extend three miles offshore, but Texas and Florida claim four Spanish leagues—about 10½ miles—into the Gulf of Mexico.

Eisenhower invited 46 members of Congress to the signing ceremony. All of them had helped push the bill through the House and Senate. The Senate fought over the issue for a month before approving it.

"I AM PLEASED to sign this measure into law recognizing the ancient rights of the states in the submerged lands within their historic boundaries," the President told his guests.

"As I have said many times I deplore and I will always resist Federal encroachment upon rights and affairs of the states. Recognizing the states' claim to these lands is in keeping with basic principles of honesty and fair play."

There was a burst of applause when the President penned his name to the documents. He used three pens and later gave them to Sens. Holland (D-Fla.), Daniel (D-Tex) and Rep. Graham (R-Pa) as souvenirs.

Enactment of the "tidelands" measure fulfills one of Eisenhower's campaign promises. His Democratic opponent, former Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, came out for Federal ownership of the disputed territory.

Two men and a child reported they were knocked from their feet. Police said their best guess was that the terrific air shock was caused by a jet airplane diving through the sound barrier.

Navy, Marine and Air Force bases as far away as March field, Riverside, reported no jets were in this area to the best of their knowledge at the time. Some Air Force planes were on training flights from March field, however.

Truck Driver Gets 2-3 Year Term For Auto Deaths of Family of 10

BELVIDERE, N. J., May 22 (AP)—A 21-year-old Scran-ton truck driver, today was sentenced to two to three years in prison for the auto deaths of ten members of a farm family in a single crash.

Scran-ton had entered a plea of guilty during his trial on an indictment charging causing death by auto.

Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Smith made no comment in the sentencing. Scran-ton told the court he was sorry about the deaths but said he thought he used proper judgment in the operation of the truck.

Scran-ton had faced a maximum of three years in prison and a $1000 fine.

Clarence Matlock, a dairy farmer, his wife, five children, two sisters and mother, were all killed in a collision with a truck Scran-ton was driving on March 20 on a two-lane highway in nearby Washington township.

The accident was classed by the National Safety Council as the "greatest number of people ever to be killed as occupants of a single passenger automobile."

The Matlock family had been enroute to a nearby town for the weekly shopping when the accident happened in the early evening.

Wasn't Influenced on Hunting Trip, Caudle Says, Blaming Underdrawers

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—T. Lamar Caudle said today that if any one tried to influence him on a Tennessee duck hunting trip in 1949 they put him in the wrong kind of underdrawers to start with.

Caudle used to be an assistant attorney general in charge of tax cases. He appeared before a House Judiciary subcommittee which is investigating alleged influence peddling at the Justice Department.

Caudle conceded that he and T. Lamar Caudle, a Nashville attorney, were the hunting guests of Jack Norman, a Nashville attorney, and John Hooker, a lawyer for Isadore Alford of Nashville. But he swore the trip had nothing to do with the subsequent dismissal of an income tax evasion case against Alford.

It seems it was a cold December day and—

"I had to borrow a pair of long drawers that were too big from one fellow and a pair of pants that were too tight from another fellow, and I was uncomfortable all the time I was there."

"THEY KEPT talking about ducks," Caudle went on in his North Carolina drawl, "but when 5 a. m. came Mr. Smith and I were the only ones that went hunting. All the others stayed by the fire."

He said he and Smith didn't realize their guide had been drinking until he sent their motorboat roaring into a stand of saplings.

"The boat was parting trees just like you part your hair," Caudle told the entranced legislators.

At the duck blind the water was frozen and had to be broken.

Thinning Enables Amateur to Harvest Young Plants for Delicacies on Table

Failure to thin out seedlings when they come up too crowded in the garden, will ruin the crop. But the amateur should do his thinning by degrees and try to eliminate inferior plants, and select the best specimens for survival.

No vegetable will mature normally in a crowded row. Not even leaf lettuce, which so many fail to thin, will develop its true crispness and flavor, when the plants are too close together.

The first step in thinning is to make sure each plant has room to grow without tangling roots with a neighbor. Do this as soon as the plants grow

Food Preservation Is Taught by Mail

The food preservation season is approaching. Homemakers can best prepare for this task by being well informed on the methods of preserving, says Mrs. Della Short, home economics extension representative Montgomery county.

The school of agriculture of the Pennsylvania State college offers a five-lesson correspondence course in canning, freezing and other ways of preserving fruits, vegetables and meats. The newest techniques are fully explained in the course.

The canning course is an "applied" course. Basic to a more complete understanding of the principles of food preservation is a study of bacteriology. The course is bacteriology consists of ten lessons.

Fifty-five different correspondence courses in home economics and agriculture are offered. These courses are free to residents of Pennsylvania. Any one interested in further information on any of the courses may see or write Mrs. Della S. Short, in the Postoffice building, Norristown, or write J. E. McCord, Agricultural Education building, State College.

EXPANSE OF PASTURE

on this farm proves the owner's belief in the feeding economy of pastures. Programs advance in nearly every state. In sections where the word pasture was seldom heard a few years ago, grasslands are recognized as of first importance, not only in acreage, but for contributions to the right side of the ledger in the farm account book. Successes credited to the pasture programs have established improved pastures as a permanent institution on modern livestock farms.

WORK SOIL WHEN RIGHT

If the soil is too wet when worked, it will be unproductive the rest of the season, explains James Dull, Penn State extension vegetable specialist.

Prevent Crowding Baby Chicks

Every poultryman knows what may happen if his baby chicks crowd too much in the brooder house. He may lose many of them by smothering, says Carl Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist.

Chicks will pile up or huddle from extreme heat as well as from cold, so temperatures must be watched.

ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

Q. Should chicks be vaccinated against Newcastle disease?

A. Yes, to protect your investment, vaccinate with Dr. Salsbury's Newcastle Intranasal Vaccine. Live virus provides good immunity, yet it's so mild it can be used on day-old chicks and laying birds. Dr. Salsbury's Intranasal Vaccine is "Vaculized" to help preserve maximum potency. Vaccinate early, at 5-10 days, with Intranasal Vaccine. It pays!

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, May 22, N. Y.—The way the garden books tell it, you'd think that every gardener was confronted with certain problem spots. I can't speak for the fraternity of hobby gardeners, but I would say that every square inch of my garden and lawn is a problem spot, and I've never read about a problem, except moles and mice, which I don't have to some degree.

I've got too much water in one place; too little in another. I've got large areas of borders with soil which needs improving in every possible way. I have clay and I have sand. I have too much shade and too much sunshine.

I have trees robbing beds of nourishment. I have trees in the wrong place. I have Japanese beetle and oyster-shell scale. I have crab grass and poison ivy.

I've got everything including a cat who, thank goodness, has the moles and mice scared onto adjoining property.

Each year, however, I solve a few of the problems. This year a number of too-much shade problems were solved neatly by an ice storm in January which eliminated considerable shade the hard way.

The too-much water problems are surrendering to an expensive drainage program which I ought to have licked completely when I had reached, I figure, age 105.

Meanwhile, in spite of all this, my garden isn't anything I'm ashamed of. I fuss considerably about the acidity and alkalinity of my soil, but for years I've been growing acid-loving plants pretty close to alkaline perennials, and although I haven't entered any contests, I get blooms.

IMPROVE SOIL CONDITION

Gardeners who use soil conditioners are reminded by James Dutt, Penn State extension vegetable specialist, that such materials are just what the name implies. They are not fertilizers. They stimulate growth through improved soil tilth.

SHOW INTEREST IN MILK

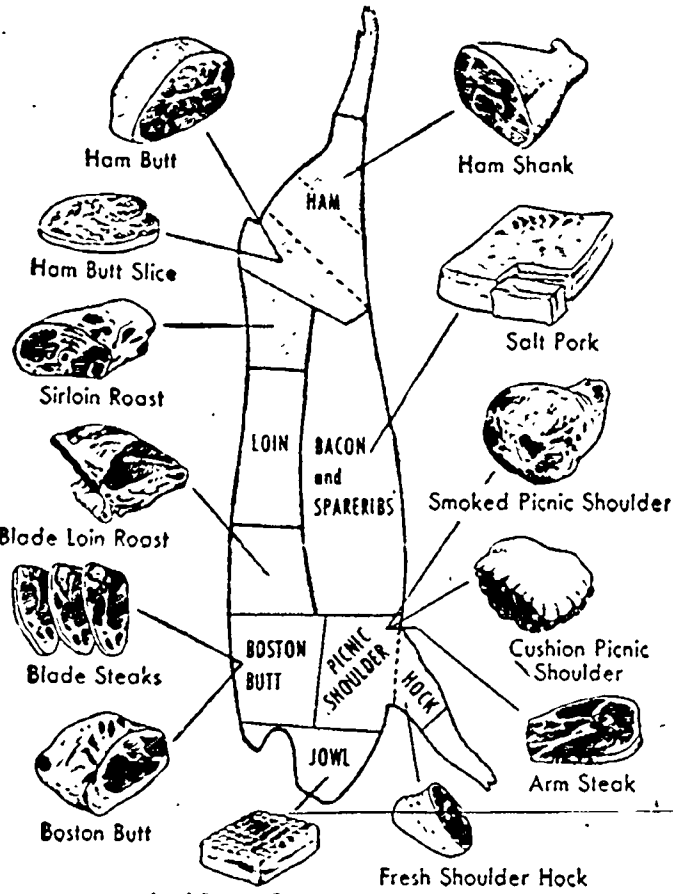

Production of high-quality milk is a goal of Pennsylvania dairymen. Ivan Parkin, Penn State extension dairy specialist, reports the public health official, milk dealer, and consumer also are interested in high-quality milk.

Homemaker Saves by Knowing Cuts

To buy meat wisely it is important that the homemaker know the retail cuts in her market. Too often she purchases the same few cuts time after time. In the case of pork, this leaves about 70 percent of the carcass that is in little demand, as shown by the shaded portions of the above chart.

For example, instead of consistently asking for center-cut loin chops, the homemaker might wisely ask for arm and blade steaks. These shoulder cuts usually retail for several cents per pound less than loin chops, yet have the same fine flavor and nutritive value.

New appeal may be added to the menu by serving a less-demanded cut such as a cushion-style pork shoulder roast. The shoulder is boned, then left flat for stuffing.

Other economical roasts include the sirloin and blade and loin roasts, butt or shank halves of ham and the smoked picnic shoulder.

Association Appoints Committees to Make County-Wide Tours

The bi-monthly meeting of the executive board of the Montgomery county Agricultural Extension association was held in the Grange hall at Trappe with Walter Lutz, Barto presiding.

The board members decided to conduct a country-wide dairy tour and poultry tour during the summer months. The poultry tour committee as appointed by President Lutz was A. K. Rothenberger of Center Point, Clarence Ziegler of Vernfield, Christian Theis of Pottstown and Arthur Anders of Norristown, RD.

The dairy tour committee consists of David Wood, Red Hill; Elmer Renninger, Royersford; Wilson Kratz, Morwood; Charles E. Wismer, Trappe.

Mrs. Della Short, extension home economics representative, informed the group that plans are underway for a 4-H club camp to be held with other counties of southeastern Pennsylvania.

HOUSE JOLTS ECONOMY DRIVE

Group Sets $55 Million More for Soil Conservation

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The House jolted the Eisenhower Administration's economy drive by approving $55 million dollars more for 1954 soil conservation payments to farmers than the President had requested.

Then it passed and sent to the Senate a $712,747,828 Agriculture Department money bill for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1953.

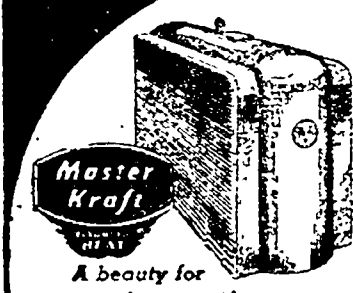

On other money bills so far, the House has managed to cut funds even below Eisenhower's own budget-cutting figures, but members failed to hold the line when the farm bill came along.

The vote came after Rep. Burdick (R-ND) told Republicans they would "legislate" themselves out of the House if they "opposed soil conservation."

However, more Democrats than Republicans voted for the increase. Voting for the higher figure were 54 Republicans, 146 Democrats and one Independent. Voting for the cut were 132 Republicans and 44 Democrats.

Meantime the Senate was passing its first regular money bill for the new year, to provide about 416 millions to run 22 independent government agencies for the coming fiscal year. The Senate cut six million dollars off the total voted by the House.

Color Bulbs Give Bloom All Summer

MONTBRETIA TIGER FLOWER HAS 6-INCH SPREAD

There are a number of beautiful up in autumn and stored over winter bulbs which are half-hardy. The blooms of two of these half-hardy but desirable for color in hardy bulbs—Montbretia and Tiger—are shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

In less rigorous climates these bulbs are perennial, but in colder zones the half-hardy bulbs must be in an 11-year cycle and 1953 found planted in the early Spring, taken the number near its minimum.

Magnets Pull Weed Seeds From Clover

Industrial research has developed a method of screening weed seeds from crop seed.

The first step in the process is to spray the seed-clover, for instance—with a "fog" of wet iron particles. The particles stick to the softer, rougher weed seeds, and slide off the hard clover seeds.

When the seed is run over a magnet, the iron particles with weed seeds attached are dragged out and the clover seed can be bagged.

Two seed companies have tested the process and find it a success. Magnets also are being used to clear roads of nails and other metal objects which might puncture tires. That process was developed during World War II, when enemy planes began sowing Allied air strips with bits of metal shaped like children's jacks.

The metal punctured airplane tires and caused accidents.

Wentzel Paces Redbirds to 8-4 Win Over Thomas

Tom Wentzel manhandled Thomas pitching for three hits, including a triple, last night in pacing his Redbird softball team to an 8-4 win over the Motormen at Franklin field annex in the City Softball league.

The Birds copped their initial win of the season in sending Thomas to its second straight defeat, blasting Herb Beckley for 10 hits. Earl Levensgood scattered eight hits effectively for the victors, while his mates touched off three-run bursts in the first and third frames to pocket the nod.

Beckley bopped two singles himself to top the Thomas batting array.

Eagles Finish 3d

Royersford Closes Perk League Season By Defeating Schwenksville, 5-4

Royersford and Schwenksville rattled each other's starting twirlers off the hill in one frame or less yesterday, but the 'Fords did the most early damage and went on to overpower the Bluebirds, 5-4, at Schwenksville.

The game closed out Perkiomen-Schuylkill league action for the year and left the 'Fords a solid third with a 10-4 log, while Schwenksville dropped into a tie with Collegeville for fifth and sixth at 4-10.

The game originally had been carded for the Eagles' nest, but because of wet grounds, was moved to Schwenksville. The Bluebirds still batted first, and they rocked 'Ford starter Jack Strunk for two runs on two hits to oust him after one frame.

The Eagles came back, however, to can foe opener Doug Smith in two-thirds of an inning, counting three runs off singles by Les Greenawalt and Jim Heik, passes to Ron Golie, Charlie Miller and Mark Horner and a passed ball on Tom Newrock.

From there on out the teams traded runs evenly, with Schwenksville tallying singletons in the fourth and sixth off Paul Kail, who finished out with one-hit ball after the first. Royersford dabbled the plate with runs in the fourth and fifth to clinch it, getting those final two counters off Charlie Kulp—Smith's reliever.

THE WINNING RUN in the fifth came across with one out on Mil-lauer's three-sack swat to left center and a wild pitch by Kulp.

Greenawalt paced the 'Ford attack with a third of the six hits collected off Smith, who lost his second straight, and Kulp.

Kebs singled and Kulp tripled in the first frame for both hits off Strunk, and Bud Robbins garnered the final Bluebird safety in the sixth, knocking in Smith with his team's final run.

The win was Kail's fourth and made him the circuit's second ranking pitcher in percentage. He posted his third win Wednesday over North Croyley.

UAW 644 is still not "loaded" as it will be in a week or two, but the other City Industrial league teams are unable to get to the Workers while the getting is good.

Valley Forge Army Hospital became UAW's third straight league victim, 6-2, as Chick Hawk's nine-man team moved to the top of the CIL standings, last night.

With the return of Dick Ricketts, Lee Hallman and Bill Harner, from college, plus Dave Ricketts making his debut as a third baseman, next week, the Workers will have a powerhouse that will be hard to control.

But last night's club, with Hawk taking a turn at first base to fill out a starting lineup, had plenty of hitting power and Joe Ruyak supplied the mound savvy. It was Ruyak's first appearance on the hill and he came through with a five-hitter, allowing only two earned runs.

Lefty Charlie Hildebrandt was nicked for ten safeties by the Workers but he had only one bad inning while dropping his second decision. Valley Forge is in third place with a 1-2 record.

The winners went out in front, 2-0, in the second inning. Dick Kroh smacked the first of his three hits to left field for a single. He came on to score the first run as Shadow Hoffman laced a long triple to left-center.

After Red McClure walked, Hoffman scored as McClure was thrown out stealing second.

Joe Maiorillo stepped around the bases on some poor throwing by the Workers. Maiorillo reached second on Jackie Fout's bad peg, and came home as Kroh threw into left field trying to prevent Maiorillo from stealing third.

The fourth inning produced all the other runs. UAW collected half its hits in this frame off Hildebrandt as they sent 10 men to the plate. Hoffman started it by lining a single off shortstop Joe McAndrew's glove.

McClure walked for the second time and Bus Brown looped a single behind first base to drive home Hoffman. Hawk popped a single to left and McClure raced home.

JOHN HALLMAN struckout, but Fout walked and Lou Peroni beat out an infield hit to admit Brown with the third run of the inning. Kroh tapped a dribbler down the third base line and beat it out, and Hawk crossed the plate with the sixth counter.

The Soldiers also did their best hitting in the fourth to pickup their other two runs. Dick Sammons walked and scored on Hildebrandt's double to right. The VF hurler then made it home on Maiorillo's slash to left.

of Bill Johnson. The winning hurler also batted in two runs and collected two of the seven Stewart hits off loser Jack Seasholtz.

The Cub hurled, 4-2 over the campaign, walked the first batter, and the next hitter reached first on a fielder's choice. Seasholtz cut down a runner at the plate as he fielded Joe Nash's bounce.

BERT BALDASSANO drilled a double-play ball to Bobby Grow at third base but his throw to Tom Drauschak went into right field and the first run was in. Johnson then hit a two-run single and the scoring was completed for the afternoon.

The Cubs had plenty of runners but couldn't bring them around. Mike Griesemer hit safely his first two times at bat to tab half of Pottstown's four hits.

Two Seasons End

Cubs Lose Final Diamond Game; Beat Hill in Track

Over the past school year, the Golden Cubs of Pottstown Junior High have compiled an outstanding athletic record but three out of four sports, unfortunately, have ended with a loss.

As in football and basketball, the baseball team wound up its campaign on a negative note by dropping a tough one to Stewart Junior High, 3-0, yesterday at Franklin field.

The loss was only the second in ten games for Coach Gene Kauler's boys, many who completed their Junior High athletic careers yesterday.

Stewart built its record to 6-2, by pushing across three runs in the first inning and holding on behind the slants

Paul Zirkel, Otis Hespeth and three relay teams carried Pottstown Junior High to a narrow 3-57 win over the Hill school Junior track team at Dell field yesterday afternoon.

The losers monopolized the dash events except for Hespeth's two victories in the 115 pound class.

Four field events were held with the Golden Cubs winning two, both by Zirkel, tying in the high jump, and losing to Hill's Binder in the broad jump.

ZIRKEL WON the shot put with a measurement of 43'2", and tossed the discus 123'11".

Dick Rhoads, and Wakemaid, of The Hill, tied in the high jump at 1'10". Hill's other individual winner was Zirkel.

That burst tied the count at the time at 2-2, but the Cards went on to garner their second win in three tries in the top of the seventh, scoring twice when a two-base boot put Miss Delp on second, Jane Yergey doubled her across. Lois Adams rolled out and Dottie Frech squeeze-bunted Miss Yergey in.

ECKIE YOUNG's homer in the fourth behind a pass to Miss Frech presented the Cards with a 2-0 lead, before the Chicks got to Miss Delp for all their runs two frames later.

Miss Young and Maryellen Gant, each swatted a brace of hits to spark the Cards' six-hit attack on losing hurler Rockie Hooverter.

The Cards' next game is listed for this afternoon at Allentown, where they'll oppose the host Rockettes at Jordan Park.

Golfers Head Hill's Final Big Weekend Of Spring Sports

With the memory of arch-rival Lawrenceville's last ditch thievery of the Crooked Stick the past year the Hill school golfers head a four-sport contingent into New Jersey today, seeking a double end.

The golfers will be trying to regain the Stick, symbol of links supremacy between the schools, and also to complete an unbeaten season after eight straight wins this year.

The Blues tipped the Crimson, 5-2, here the past week, but such was the tally the past year only to have the Laurentians turn the tide to 6-1 at home and snatch the Stick.

Dave Reidenouer, who lost out when the Crimson counted four unearned runs in one frame the past week, will try again today against Lawrenceville for the Blues. He'll also be out to stop a two-game personal loss streak. The Hill, now 5-6, also needs a win to finish with a .500 booking.

BILL ANDREWS, Joel Meader, Bob Wynne and Tony Coddling will spearhead a Blue bid to upend the reigning national prep champs in track today also at Lawrenceville. The Hill tennis men go into today's match with an 8-2 record and tromped the Crimson, 6-3, a week back.

was Daniels who completed the $80 in 2:28.8.

All season Coach Charlie Wisner has fielded strong relay teams and again yesterday they came through with important wins.

Two Hill sprinters, Storm and Demaree were double winners. Storm won the 110 yard low hurdles in 12.7, and the 410 in 57.2. Demaree was first in the 100 in 11 seconds, and broke the tape in the 220 in 25.5.

Hespeth's wins were gained in the 50 and 75 yard dash events.

BILL MIGNONA was the hitting sparkplug earlier this week when West Chester Teachers college snapped an 11-game Villanova win streak, 8-6 . . . Mignona, the former Pottstown High and Legion gardener, clouted three hits in four trips and cracked out the big blow in a four-run eighth inning rally that carried the Rams to victory. Also appearing for the Teachers this year have been FRANK MURPHY and BILL MUNCH, who played for the WC Raiders in the past YMCA cage tourney. Murphy is a third baseman, while Munch covers the keystone . . . WC is now 11-2 for the year.

Freshman shortstop LEROY HALLMAN ranked third in team hitting for Juniata college over its first dozen games macing the apple at a .303 clip . . . He had 10 for 33 with two doubles and a triple . . . To date Juniata has won seven of 12 games with two remaining on its schedule.

Another localite, GENE ROTH-ENBERGER, became the first JUNIATA winner in the Middle Atlantic conference track and field championships in seven years with a first place in the broad jump. Rothenberger, from Boyertown, built up to his 22' 3/4" winning leap by copping five straight broad jump events in dual and triangular meets. He was also the team's top point maker over the season, registering 55 points in five meets.

BOB SUTTON might join former PHS All-American CARL BODOLUS at George Washington this Fall . . . Sutton, the Trojans' All-Ches-Mont lineman, visited Carl recently and took a tour of the DC campus . . . GW has no scholastic worries about either boy . . . Bodolus is the top scholastic athlete on the campus, while Sutton carries a high school B average and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Both Scores, 3-2

Athletics Drop Pair to Red Sox

BOSTON, May 22 (AP)—After providing unbeaten southpaw Mel Parnell with his sixth victory in regular time, the Boston Red Sox swept a double header from the Philadelphia Athletics by twin 2-2 scores today when Sammy White doubled in Hoot Evers with one out in the 12th session of the nightcap.

Carl Scheib, the fourth of the Athletics' second game pitchers, set the stage for White's game winning clout down the left field line by passing Evers and George Kell.

Kell, the American League's batting leader, gave Parnell robust support by homering in the third inning and singling in the winning run in the eighth.

Until then, Alex Kellner had a 2-1 lead to work on. Tom Umphlett, however, started his downfall with a two-bagger to right center and the score was tied after Jim Piersall tripled to that same corner. Then came Kell's game-winning single.

The Red Sox also needed four flingers during the second game, which wound up under the lights. One of them was veteran Ellis Kinder, who had to spell Parnell in the ninth of the opener.

In the eighth of the second game, Marion Fricano, the Athletics' starter, gave himself a 2-1 lead by doubling, stealing third and scoring on Eddie Robinson's fly.

Evidently that exertion was a bit too much for Fricano, for he complained of a "pinched nerve" in his pitching shoulder and had to be replaced by ageless Bobo Newsom with one out in the eighth.

Newsom hit Milt Bolling with a pitch with one out in the ninth and then walked pinch-hitter Gene Stephens. After Umphlett singled in Bolling with the tying run, Newsom gave way to Charlie Bishop, who left for pinch-hitter in the 11th.

The double decision moved the Red Sox to within two and a half games of the front-running New York Yankees.

Ringling Hill, 'Fords Win in Suburban

Defending champ Ringling Hill jealously rolled upstart Gabels' victory out of first place in the Suburban league last night, pinning down the host Gabels, 7-3, for their initial defeat after two victories.

It was the first win of the year for the Cubs, who bunched most of their hits for three productive rounds to top the Gabels, even though outlit, 9-8 by them.

Careful Frank Babel picked up his second win by muffling the Owl's bats sufficiently over the six inning route cut short by darkness.

George Saurman's run-scoring double, and a single by Babel gave the Cubs a 2-0 lead in the second and Lee Hartman's three-sack blow to head the third was good enough to chase G-ville starter Richie Nestor, who had been unbeaten heretofore.

Paul Moatz succeeded the Owl rightlander, being touched for the remainder of the Cubs' three runs in the third and two more in the fourth.

Nellie Weidenbaugh slapped a brace of singles to top the Cubs' hitters, while Lou Millard didn't miss in three trips, rapping a trio of one-baggers for the losers.

RESURGENT ROYER SFORD won his second straight league game, downing Linfield, 12-10, in five frames, in the evening's other game. The Fords evened their league log at 2-2 with the win as they recovered from the shock of a 16-run third inning to edge the Sportsmen on the losers' lot.

Both teams counted eight runs in the third, with the Fords using eight singles, and Linfield making it with five hits, including Bob Quinn's double, and three walks.

Two passes, a single by Russ Cauffman and an outfield error on the play gave Royersford its margin of victory in the final round off relief thrower George Kuterbach. Frank Walters, who replaced Ray Slawewski in the stormy third, took the win for the Ford corps.

JIM HEARN Ends Slump

Giants on Move, Half Dodgers, 5-1

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Jim Hearn, knocked out seven times in a row this season, came back today to pitch the New York Giants to their sixth straight victory, 5-1, over Brooklyn, with a route-giving seven hits.

It was the first time the Giants' rightlander had gone the distance since Sept. 17 when he whipped Chicago. He helped nail this one down with a two-run double in the fourth inning, a ball sliced off the right field wall not far from the foul line.

Hank Thompson's fifth homer off the left field score board, leading off against reliever Bob Milliken in the seventh, gave Hearn a comfortable margin as he breezed down the stretch.

Chuck Dressen shook up the Dodger lineup after last night's disaster, moving Jackie Robinson back to third base and sending Don Thompson to right. Billy Cox and Carl Furillo rode the bench. But it didn't make much difference.

The Giants ripped into Carl Erskine, whose last out was a one-hitter at Cincinnati, and scored in the third on Al Dark's second double, following Dave Williams' triple after two were out.

New York struck again with two out in the fourth. Walks to Bobby Thomson and Wes Westrum set it up for Hearn's two-run double.

Hearn, bearing down in the fifth on successive singles by Junior Gilliam, Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider after two were out. The Giants got that run back in the sixth on singles by Whitey Lockman, Thomson and Westrum.

Houtteman Beats Chisox on 2-Hitter

DETROIT, May 22 (AP)—Art Houtteman, rumored to be on the Tigers' trading block, made his bosses sit up and take notice tonight with a sparkling two-hitter that gave Detroit a 7-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The hard throwing right hander, an early season flop, turned in his second straight complete game to make his record 2-3 and possibly squelch all trade talk.

He was given more than enough batting support by the Tigers, who battered five Chicago pitchers to end their three game losing streak and hand the reeling White Sox their fourth straight loss.

Walt Drogo, plagued by a batting slump, touched off the Tiger barrage by slaming a three run homer off loser Saul Rogovin (2-5) in the second inning. It sailed high and far into the upper left center field seats about 400 feet away, and boosted his league leading RBI total to 30.

The Tigers picked up two more runs in the next inning on two walks and run scoring singles by Bob Nieman and Jim Delsing. They added two more in the fourth on Johnny Pesky's two run single to center.

Mize, Vernon Extend Strings Sens Humble Yanks, Reynolds, 12-4

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The Washington Senators handed the New York Yankees a humiliating 12 to 4 defeat today, raking Alie Reynolds for five runs in the first inning and adding the final insult by ending the game with a triple play.

A sparse crowd of 4,774 watched the Senators go on an 18-hit rampage, their biggest batting spree of the season.

They watched plenty more. For instance: 1. Johnny Mize, the veteran first baseman of the New York Yankees, set a new American League record by hitting safely in his fifth straight pinch hitting assignment.

2. Mickey Vernon, Washington's first baseman, stretched his batting streak to 16 straight games.

3. Clyde Vollmer walloped a home run and double to drive in five runs, moving him nearer the top in RBIs in the league with 26.

4. Bob Porterfield, the castoff Yankee pitcher, won his fifth straight game, adding two hits to page, their biggest batting spree of the season.

The biggest whoop went up in the ninth though after the Yankees had scored a run and put runners on first and second with nobody out.

Irv Noren whacked a wicked liner right at Porterfield who grabbed it on the fly and threw to Mickey Vernon to double pinch runner Art Schult off first. Vernon's fast relay to Pete Runnels caught Andy Carey trying to scramble back to second to complete the triple play.

Reynolds rarely has been as soundly whacked as he was in the first inning. Washington sent 10 men to the plate and at one stretch, seven in a row reached base safely. Vollmer's three-run homer was the most damaging blow.

Reynolds left after that inning, have absorbed his second loss against four victories. It was Reynolds' second loss to Washington, the only club to defeat him so far this year.

Mize, who needs only four hits to reach the 2,000 mark, set a new league record by banging out a single as a ninth inning pinch hitter.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Local Woman, Son-in-Law Hurt in Three-Car Collision

A Pottstown woman and her son-in-law both had their neck muscles wrenched slightly in a three-car crash at High and Quinter streets yesterday morning at 6:59 o'clock.

Neither Mrs. Helena Missimer, 1319 Cherry street, nor the son-in-law, William L. Clark 5d, same address, required immediate medical attention.

Mrs. Missimer's husband, Raymond, was driving her to work at Prestige incorporated hosiery mill. As he started a right turn onto Quinter street, his coupe was struck in the rear by the westbound sedan of Norman E. Schaffer.

Missimer's car was pushed forward into the left front of a sedan driven by John Wesley Nidiflen, Elizabethton, Tenn., who was stopped on Quinter street facing High street.

Schaffer told Patrolman Joseph Thees, who investigated, that he had been looking in his rear-view mirror just before the crash.

Revolutionary Dead To Be Honored by Ellis' Woods Group

At this time each year Pottstown, as well as the rest of the Nation is ready to pay tribute to men and women who have died during previous wars.

Although Memorial Day is not until next Saturday, the Ellis' Woods Memorial association tomorrow afternoon will honor 17 Revolutionary War soldiers who died in an improvised hospital during the memorable Winter of 1777-1778 at Valley Forge.

Official tribute to Pottstown's war dead will not come until May 30 when members of the town's seven veterans' groups gather at the West End cemetery to pay homage.

All seven will also be represented at church services tomorrow morning at 9:45 o'clock at the Trinity Reformed church.

The Ellis' Woods memorial ceremony will be conducted by the Funston Camp, No. 81, USWV, and auxiliary, No. 48. These two groups will be assisted by veterans of World Wars I and II.

According to Leonard Rachid, general chairman, services will get underway at 2:30 o'clock at the Revolutionary War soldiers' plot in Ellis' Woods.

FOLLOWING the raising of the Colors which will open the program, greetings will be offered by Harry J. Ginter of the American Legion. Ginter will also serve as presiding officer.

A reading, "Americanism," and three musical selections will be sung with audience participation. Several other selections will be played by the Pottstown band.

One of the highlights during ceremony will be the placing of flags at the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers by the Spanish War veterans. They will be assisted by veterans of World Wars I and II. The flags will be presented by Mrs. Hugh Craig, regent, in behalf of Manatwney chapter of the DAR.

A vocal selection, "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers," by Freda Schindler, contralto, will precede the flower placing ceremony by the USWV auxiliary, who will be assisted by the VFW auxiliary.

Guest speaker during the program will be the Honorable William F. Dannenhour, judge of common pleas court. The benediction will be offered by the Rev. John B. Frantz.

Members of the American Legion will present the Soldier's Salute, while Norman G. Lepper, confederates the tribute with the playing of taps.

across from the lot, reported, "He (C. Francis Griffith) was out there the other night and removed an old piece of tin. He had a cutter over there and knocked off a few blades of grass. And then he got rid of the mixer, but I don't see how that is a health menace."

An artist's sketch of the lot would show along Morris street a half dozen scrawny seedlings, a chest-high pile of rotting joists and rafters stacked with their weather-darkened ends toward the street, scraps of old tin and a pile of broken bricks.

A Price street view of the lot shows a rambling growth of ivy, poison, three twisted seedlings, old lumber, tin, bricks, lathe and odd shapes of wood strewn in the dark green bushes.

DERECOLA said, "He picked up about 15 or 16 pieces of lathe and chopped at the weeds. That's all."

"I definitely want that lot cleaned off. Some of the folks out here say we won't accomplish anything because you can't fight city hall, but I'm a contrary rascal and I intend to get action."

1100 Pupils Crowd Into Gymnasium As Junior High Awards Are Made

Junior High school pupils yesterday found their long wait for the presentation of awards almost as fatiguing as the hours of study and exercise spent earning awards.

It was award day in the school gymnasium and 1100 pupils crowded into the steamy, warm athletic arena. Many pupils sat on the floor during the hour and 30-minute exercise.

More than 200 pupils qualified for awards.

Principal William D. Mower was in charge.

Awards were presented for junior varsity football and basketball, 100-pound football, the girls glee club, the student council, the band, drum majorettes, the press club, the safety patrol, stage crew, guidance service, cafeteria, Red Cross, bowling club, spelling bee.

Intramural sports service, health room service and cheer leaders. Girls athletic awards were given to Ninth graders who participated in high school sports during the year.

THE NAMES OF boys who will receive varsity athletic awards and the names of "A" and "B" honor roll pupils were read at the assembly.

"A" honor pupils receive letters and "B" honor pupils receive emblems.

Honor roll names were read by Elizabeth Klink, national junior honor society sponsor.

Pupils who were listed for honor awards earned them on the basis of the first five marking periods. They must qualify for the sixth marking period in order to remain on the honor rolls.

Linda Weaver, Ninth grade member of student council, took charge of the opening exercises.

The program started at 1:30 and was completed by 3 o'clock.

The band played while pupils filed into and from the gymnasium.

Assembly programs are held each week in two sections, but because of the length of yesterday's exercise, the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth graders attended the single assembly in the gym.

The auditorium used for most programs is not large enough to accommodate the three grades.

Knause Asks Council Session

the burgess.

Residents of the North Keim street section have been objecting to the jungle-infested lots for years. At the May 11 council meeting, they presented a petition demanding action on the lot at Morris and Price streets.

The 21 petitioners called it an eyesore and a breeding ground for rodents, snakes and insects.

"I feel that there has been plenty of time since he (Francis Griffith) was notified by the authorities what to do, with but a token effort having been made. I feel that we now have to demand action."

AFTER COUNCIL'S demand that the burgess and the police department, of which he is nominal head, clean up the junky, weedy lots, the burgess sent a letter to the fire marshal, fire chief and borough health officer.

The three men, after inspecting the premises, said they found no specific violation of fire or health laws, but did suggest that the weeds be cut; that the good lumber piled and the rotten lumber be removed.

Members of council's sanitary committee said that at a meeting with the burgess Thursday night, the burgess told them he would write a letter tomorrow (yesterday) to his brother.

At the start of the sanitary committee's meeting, the angry burgess ousted a Mercury reporter. He did so on the grounds that the meeting was in his office and that he can declare a meeting closed whenever he wants.

THIS UNPRECEDENTED interference flew in the face of the fact that the burgess is only an ex-officio member of the council night with a reception and committees and that the meetings are called by the committee not the burgess.

Also, H. J. McCarty, director of postal transportation; S. H. Sadler, postoffice inspector in charge of the Philadelphia office; Raymond McNamara, national president of the postmasters association.

Charles Puskar, the association's national secretary-treasurer; Philadelphia Judge Vincent Carburgess ousted a Mercury reporter. roll; Air Force Major William H. Miller, and Francis Brown, national president of the letter carriers' association.

There also is a possibility that US Sen. James H. Duff and Arthur Summerfield, postmaster general, may be able to attend.

The convention begins tomorrow night with a reception and committees and that the meetings are called by the committee not the burgess.

is LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Gabelsville Athletic Group to Sponsor Wild Animal Circus at Park June 4

Ernest H. Reifsnider, chairman of the entertainment committee for the Gabelsville Athletic association, announced yesterday that the club is sponsoring the Kelly-Morris three-ring wild animal circus to raise funds to help in carrying on their yearly project that of keeping up and maintaining a park and playground for the young people.

Reifsnider says that the Kelly-Morris circus is one of the larger motorized circuses touring this country.

The circus will commence arriving at the Gabelsville baseball park early on the morning of Thursday, June 4, and start transforming the ball park into a tented city. The circus offers many outstanding features.

The public is invited to the Gabelsville ball park during the morning hours to watch the circus hands feeding the animals and also see the elephants assist in pulling the wagons and putting up the large tents.

PLANS ARE BEING made by Reifsnider and the Gabelsville Athletic club to obtain tickets for all the underprivileged, orphans, handicapped and other children of school age to see this wild animal circus as guests of the business and professional people.

Reifsnider said yesterday that if anyone knows of any child who cannot get to the circus for any reason such as no ticket, no way to get there or any other reason, to call the clubhouse or any club members and arrangements will be made for them to be on hand.

There will be two circus shows on Thursday, June 4 with a matinee at 3:30 o'clock, and another show at 8 p. m. Tickets may be purchased at the clubhouse or from any club member.

Unusually large rooms for a house of its type, and landscaping that softens the retaining wall at right are features of this home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn H. Manger on the southwest corner of Spruce and Prospect streets. The house was built in 1947 by Allen K. Davidheiser Jr., Pottstown contractor. All the living space is on the main floor. The expansion attic is unfinished. The living room, behind bay window, is 14 by 21 feet; the dining room is 11 by 17 and the kitchen, 12 by 15. Also downstairs are two bedrooms and a bath. Alongside the two garages is a full cellar, with a rumpus room 12 by 20 feet. That's ivy on the right retaining wall. Manger is a production engineer for Army ordnance in Philadelphia.

Giovanelli Upsels Vince Martinez In Garden Debut

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Rookie Danny Giovanelli, a rangy Brooklyn kid shooting at the moon in his first Madison Square Garden main event, upset Vince Martinez, boxing's 1952 "Rookie of the Year," tonight on a split decision in a bristling 10-rounder that drew round of cheers from the small crowd of 4585.

Martinez weighed 146, Giovanelli 144.

The sensational scrap saw the 20-year old Giovanelli taking an eight-count from a stunning right hand punch in the ninth round only to roar back fighting in a thrilling finish.

Always pressing the attack Danny Boy walked in like he never heard of the flashy youngster from Paterson, N. J. He outmaneuvered him in the clinches, shook off his best punches and kept flailing away on the inside.

By taking the last round on the cards of the two judges, Giovanelli pulled out his most important victory, although Martinez opened a gash over his left eye in the furious ninth.

S-F Women Move Up to 12th Cup

Spring-Ford Country club's women golfers won the first five individual matches yesterday and then coasted into a 5-2 victory over the Bala Seconds at Gulph Mills CC, to complete a double jump into the 12th cup of the Women's Golf Association of Philadelphia.

It marked the second straight such double leap by the S-F ladies, and it came by just the required margin. At least a 5-2 win was necessary for them to complete the double sweep.

SUMMARY

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

Important Message to Every Citizen of Pottstown

Again we have heard of many Pottstown people being fooled by door-to-door "price-cutters." These vendors offer the same old argument, "We give you something for nothing because our overhead is low." The same old story, and still just as ridiculous.

As a member of the legitimate family of Pottstown Merchants who can easily realize the fallacy of these statements, we feel it our duty to warn all our readers against these unscrupulous people.

Below, you may study the several main classifications of peddlers. Read about them carefully, remember them, watch out for them.

1. The door-to-door silver salesman who offers you the "best silver" at a ridiculous price, then gives you free silver to really "clinch the sale." Surely this type must insult your better judgment.

2. The "Jack of all Trades" who offers watches, diamonds, etc., for a cut price. Remember, it's so easy to change price tags and to offer second-hand goods.

3. The "Fly by night Merchants" — the ones first in one business, then in another, and in reality not satisfying either their customers or themselves. When you take your jewelry back to this type for cleaning or repairing you find that they are in the photography business.

We are not necessarily asking you to buy from our store, (although naturally we would like you to), for there are a good number of reputable Jewelry stores in Pottstown. What we are asking is for you to boycott these "everything for nothing" peddlers.

All better manufacturers are better because they have the best products, and they just don't sell to illegitimate sources. Don't be fooled by these people. Watch out for them, and be critical of them.

See you next Saturday.

La Starza's Pilot Nixes Charles Bout

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Roland La Starza today declined a challenge to fight Ezzard Charles for the right to get the next shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

"Charles has had plenty of title fights," said La Starza's manager, Jimmy De Angelo. "Now Roland wants his chance. He's waited three years for a promised return bout with Marciano and we're not going to let anything stand in our way now. We want Marciano and no body else."

The challenge to La Starza, a New Yorker, was made by Charles' co-managers, Tom Tannas and Jake Mintz. They said they had accepted the recommendation of the NBA and the New York commission that Charles and La Starza battle it out for the title chance.

"We have sent forfeits to the NBA and the New York Commission as evidence of our good faith," said the co-managers. "If La Starza thinks he is good enough to fight for the title he can prove same to the public by accepting the commissions' recommendation to box Charles."

The NBA's executive board and Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York commission, last Sunday recommended that Charles and La Starza fight it out for the title shot.

Hill Diamond JV's Win 8th

The unbeaten Hill Jayvees whacked the Perkiomen school Jayvees, 10-1, yesterday on Dell field, with pitcher Bob Hydeman conking out four hits to lead his team with the wood as well. It was Hydeman's and The Hill's seventh straight win this year.

The Blue Midgets fared not so well, however, bowing, 11-6, to the visiting Phoenixville Jr. High, although outbitting the victors, 7-6.

Jack Pastrick took the win and Bill Spencer was charged with the mound defeat. Mike Murray's two hits topped the Blue batting.

Heavy Rain Makes Track Muddy for Today's Preakness

BALTIMORE, May 22 (AP)—Rain today turned Pimlico's racing strip into a gooey mass of mud with the prospect of an "off" track for the Native Dancer, Dark Star and five other colts in the 77th edition of the $100,000-added Preakness Stakes.

The weatherman promised some sunshine for tomorrow, however, and unless there is heavy, continuous rains through tonight the track condition should be no worse than "good" when the seven flashy three-year-olds break from the starting gate at 3:15 p. m., Pottstown time.

The candidates were out in the sticky mud for light spins this morning, all in top trim for one of the most controversial Preakness races since it was invented in 1873.

DARK STAR, the Cain Hoy Stable's colt who upset Alfred Vanderbilt's Native Dancer in the Kentucky Derby May 2, traveled half a mile in 48 seconds soon after a heavy thunderstorm swept the track.

Native Dancer came out sixteen classic are Eugene Constanlin, Jr.'s Royal Bay Gem, winner of the Preakness Prep over three-quarters yesterday in 1:11 3/5. That, anyway, is what Felix told the Associated Press when asked about rumors that the Camden Negro was hanging up his gloves for good.

SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1953

Why, courage then! What cannot be avoided? twere childish weakness to lament or fear.—William Shakespeare—Henry VI.

Behind Closed Doors

BURGESS William A. Griffith ill-mannered, eddy and angrily showed that he's "boss" of his borough hall office by kicking out a Mercury newsmen the other night.
The reporter was assigned by his superiors to get a story on a borough council session. The meeting had been called without notice to discuss charges that several Seventh Ward lots were untidy.
Burgess Griffith had been in a tizzy by borough council May 11 to take cleanup action against the lots. He failed to make public any progress report, declaring he'd report "to the proper authorities" and at a time he didn't state.
So the committee wanted action. It decided to find out what had happened. In the absence of an adequate report, the committee planned to request a special council meeting to take up the case.

When The Mercury newsmen sat down to report the meeting, Burgess Griffith ordered him out.
"This is my office," he shouted. "Get out of here!"

The burgess was quite right. It was "his" office. Temporarily, at least. But he wasn't chairman of the meeting. In fact, he was only an ex-officio member of the committee.

But none of the committee members, including the person who called the meeting, challenged the burgess' right to kick out the reporter.

They probably were stunned, because the Republican majority of borough council has a rule that it hides nothing from the public. Newsmen are invited to attend all committee meetings because the Republicans recognize that they are performing public business.

Burgess Griffith, on the other hand, has censored news many times. He has allowed his police department to suppress news. He falsified a report of a meeting he had with police and an arrested man just a few weeks ago.

But The Mercury reported that meeting, as it did this latest of meetings, despite Burgess Griffith's dictatorial orders to "get out."

The Mercury will continue to ferret out the news, will report it diligently to the public, despite Burgess Griffith's efforts at censorship, despite his boorish ordering around of reporters.

The Mercury will publish all the news. It will continue to tell the public of the delaying tactics of the burgess. The Mercury will penetrate Burgess Griffith's iron curtain and will continue to reveal if he's trying to hide anything. It doesn't believe in closed door sessions.

The Mercury believes the public is entitled to all the news.

The Mercury believes Burgess Griffith is a public servant and his every action is deserving of publicity. When he fails to perform his duty, The Mercury will report it. When he performs his duty, The Mercury also will report it.

The Mercury will be fair, but it will be thorough. It will get all the news, and report it faithfully.

Folly of Censorship

THE folly of news censorship was aptly illustrated in the case of a robbery at the DeSoy. Plating works this week.

The theft included $24 in cash and a number of blank paychecks.

Not until some of the blank checks had been cashed was the news of the theft made public by Pottstown police. One check had been cashed in Reading, the other in Conshohocken.

If the theft had been reported by police and given wide publicity by the newspapers, the thief might have been caught, or at least shopkeepers might have been on the alert for the phony checks.

But police suppressed the news. The theft was reported Thursday. Police didn't let out the secret until yesterday.

There's a mistaken idea that the suppression of crime news will give the public the idea crime doesn't exist. That ostrich-like, head-in-the-sand impression was exploded good by this theft.

The searchlight of publicity is the best deterrent to crime. If the thief saw a newspaper story given details of the checks pilfered, he never would have tried to pass the checks. As it is, somebody's hooked for lots of money.

Don't conceal crime news! The crooks know the crimes they've committed and they know police are looking for them. Private citizens can be of immense help in apprehending crooks, too, if they're given a chance by complete publicity.

Anti-TV Reader Finds It a Laugh

He'll Take the Real Thing

To the Editor: All the pros and cons of television batted around in letters to Readers Say hand me a big laugh.

Everybody was all pepped up about video when it first came out. You were terribly old-fashioned if you didn't own a set, and everybody said it was so educational.

So what happens?
Now that Pottstown's rooftops are covered with a forest of TV antennas, the set owners and their neighbors are finding the new invention a threat to the American way of life.

Morality will topple any day now if the set owners with the herringbone complexions don't wear more clothes, according to one letter writer.

She adds that the gyrations of the TV cuties are a subtle lure to the right-thinking citizen—making him neglect his regular Bible reading.

Neighbors who "once spoke civilly to each other across the back fence now write nasty letters to this department instead, because the TV set next door is driving them daffy with loud commercials.

Personally, I don't own a TV set and don't expect to.

I'll take my half-dressed women in natural color at the nearby swimming places and my advertising in the newspaper, where you don't get nauseating jingles, fake quiz contests and drooling announcers with it.

Pottstown LIFESIZE

Your Move Burgess

To the Editor: The brothers Griffith must be boiling these days.

Personally, I hope they stew in their own cantankerous juice.

They have been asked by reasonable, decent people to clean up the Morris and Price streets junk lot owned by C. Francis for a number of years now.

First the people went to Francis and then, just this past week council directed brother Bill, our beloved do-nothing, delaying burgess to clean up his brother's lot.

But Burgess Bill is known as William the Delayer and one could not expect a delayer to do anything about a problem which stinks up a whole neighborhood, a situation which breeds rodents and insects and which has developed into a health menace to the people who daily must smell and look at this rotten heap of rubble.

Burgess Bill is running for re-election. Another term of Griffith and I'm moving out of Pottstown.

The Democrats have made some fine contributions to our borough in years past. They have some talented and civic-minded leaders today. But Griffith is not among them.

I say let's root this rascal out of his arm chair. If we don't Pottstown will make another step backward. We can become a great borough, but not with Brother Bill at the helm.

Pottstown AN OLD TIMER

Defends Cool Cats

To the Editor: Reading the "No Haircut; Oil Change" letter in the Readers Say column (May 21) the "Cool Cats" think that crew cut is a real square.

We teen-agers tend to wear the latest style clothing for our age as the adults keep up with the latest fashions.

We think people should be permitted to wear their clothes and hair the way they choose without rude criticisms.

We can't see any connections with cool cats and vandals.

As a matter of fact all the cool cats

we know are swell fellows.

Of course, the youth of Boyertown are quite different than the Pottstown lads and lassies.

Pottstown "BURNED UP COOL CATS"

More Power to Hepcats

To the Editor: According to your story on "teen-age fads, some educators are worried about the unusual clothes and hair arrangements of our young people.

To me the prevalence of fads among High schoolers is a good sign, not a sign of degeneracy.

Refusal of the youngsters to accept the stodgey conventions of their elders is evidence of some individual thinking among them—and individuality has become all too uncommon in this age of standardization.

Why should all men wear the same kind of clothes and haircut, anyway? Why should it be more respectable to dress like everybody else than according to one's own preference?

Look at the average business man, for instance. His clothes are the acme of drabness.

He wears only gray, blue or brown suits, light shirts, and either brown or black shoes. His topcoat is of a neutral color and his hat is creased the same as everyone else's. He may not even wear it with the brim turned up in front or down in back.

His clothes are of an austere conservative cut and so is his hair.

"Teen-agers will soon enough come under the iron discipline of business office dress.

Why not let them assert themselves while they may?"

CHARLES COBURN may rank as one of the granddaddies of the Hollywood character actors, but there's plenty of vim left in the old boy as of this moment. He drove across the George Washington bridge a few nights ago to catch the show at the Riviera, became infected with the song-and-dance spirit, and on the way home remarked to his agent, Ken Later:

"You know, I think I'd like to do a night club act—maybe one with a few pretty girls."

Ken was admittedly startled by the proposal, but he got on the telephone the next day with this result: there's considerable interest in a Coburn act, and the gent with the monocle may play a Las Vegas spot just like Altitie and Van and all the rest of the young fellows.

One newsreel theatre showing the Walcott-Marciano one-round epic is charging 60 cents to view the 3-D film without polaroid glasses, three nickels extra if you want to see it with the spectacles! Edith Adams, the "sister Eileen," ironed out her problems with the "Wonderful Town" management and has decided to stay with the hit.

Hey, have they White House permission for this? Sidewalk salesmen are JENNIFER JONES doesn't believe in posing for cheesecake stills, so Gina Lollobrigida (get that name up on the marquee, boys!) will have her lush torso plastered all over the ads for "Beat the Devil"—even though Jennifer does wear an extremely revealing bathing suit for one scene in the picture.

One of the Gabors—Magda—must be changing her type. She and Bob Fletcher, the Texas millionaire, teed off the seventh month of their hardly secret courtship with a quiet table for two at the Pen and Pencil, but requested, "No pictures, please."

Rosemary Williamson, the beautiful showgirl for whom Sid ("that Creep") Levy stole thousands of dollars in that swindle of a few seasons back, is now doing very well as a model, using the name Marie Newell. Two commercial photographers are daffy about her—and that's not hurting her career!

SYLVIA SIDNEY demanded that the air-conditioning be turned off in the TV studio in which she was rehearsing the other day. Made hundreds of new friends among sweltering video staffers.

Hotel man Oscar Wintrab, a close chum of Mayor and Mrs. Impellitteri, has been named managing director of the Hotel Shelton. It'll be announced soon.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

ALAN G., is a theology student.

"Dr. Crane, just how do you visualize heaven?" he asked after I had addressed his fellow students in their Chapel Service.

"Some people say they think everything ends with the grave. And even those who believe in a hereafter, have very hazy ideas about what it consists of.

"Do you think it is unscientific to talk about heaven?"

No, I don't think it is unscientific to believe in further life after the grave. In fact, modern scientific advances are making that idea far more plausible than ever before.

If you wish to stretch your imaginations and engage in some unusual mental calisthenics, just consider the following facts:

OUR SUN HAS nine planets revolving around it. One of them (Earth) has atmosphere and moisture ideally suited for animal and vegetable life.

But astronomers tell us there are millions of other suns (stars) in the sky at night. We can see about 3000 with the unaided eye.

How many of them are likewise surrounded by planets, we do not know. But if our sun with its nine planets, has one perfectly adapted to life, why shouldn't this ratio hold true of other suns which also have planets revolving around them?

In our solar system, however, it seems unlikely that animal life exists on any other of the nine planets except Earth. Mars may have some vegetation only.

But maybe thousands of distant suns throughout the Milky way and other parts of the cosmic universe, likewise have planets with atmosphere and moisture just like Earth's.

MAYBE THESE PLANETS are God's laboratory schools. Perhaps we simply graduate at death and then move upward to the next classroom in this cosmic school system. We call it heaven.

Our foolish race prejudices have complicated our social life and our speed of attaining the more abundant life here on Earth, but this may be a natural result of this experimental project.

Once as slim as a reed, the letter-sorter has gone up to the 190-pound mark. "That's a lot for a guy who'd been around 150. . . . Another main stemmer who's worried about his weight (but can't seem to do anything about it) is Bill Whitman, the Amvet State leader. . . . One of the nicest compliments extant was passed Percy Ricketts' way by a former newspaper carrier. Ricketts is the Burdan gardener and manufacturer of pony carts. Said the complimenter: "The Ricketts table always was well lined on both sides by the large family, but every time I delivered the paper they had a piece of cake, pie or fruit to give to me!"

Wilkinson, who formerly lived at 35 Chestnut street and worked at the Game farm near Schuylkill for seven years, is in charge of 3400 breeding birds on a 16-acre farm in Distant. The farm plans to hatch 60,000 pheasant chicks a year that will be released for hunters' benefit. The chicks hatch in an incubator that is 15 feet square and seven feet high.

LOCUST DEPT.—Those 17-year locusts have been reported in droves out in Schuylkill. Mrs. Charles I. An hour later, she phoned again to say that her husband had taken a walk in the woods behind the house and found thousands of them on the trees. "They're just starting to hatch," she said. "Because a lot of them are still in their shells." . . . Another sufferer, Adam Pienta, Ringling Hill, Pottstown RD 4, said his two-acre lot is full of locusts already.

YOUR HEALTH

WE DON'T usually think of reckless driving as a cause of heart disease. However, the type of chest injury that is likely to occur in a bad auto wreck can lead to heart trouble. This is one of the internal injuries we so often read about.

Injury to the chest wall that protects the heart may cause slight injury to the heart, such as contusion or bruising, or may cause very severe injury.

True, this is not one of the most common causes of heart disease. More often it develops from hardening of the arteries or the formation of a clot within the blood vessels supplying the heart.

Diseases such as rheumatic fever, scarlet fever and diphtheria also leave many people with heart disease.

In the case of a chest injury, the wall of the heart itself may be damaged and scarred, so that a heart attack follows, similar to a coronary attack.

The heart may even be ruptured. At times, even the valves inside the heart may be injured, producing a heart "murmur" which a physician can hear.

When the heart has been damaged by a chest injury that is not too severe, there may not be any heart pain until six to eight hours after the injury.

The chest then feels tender and the heart usually beats rapidly.

Usually, this type of heart damage can be detected by an electrocardiograph. However, it may take as long as two to six days before the damage is shown by this device.

Therefore, even though the person's electrocardiogram is normal on the day of the injury, he may still have heart damage.

In injuries where the heart muscles suffer a contusion or bruise, or where the heart is definitely scarred, the person is usually required to rest from two to four weeks.

Oxygen is sometimes of help in clearing up the condition. Many times the heart will beat irregularly for many

Paul Rebukes Corinthians for Harboring Sinful

Disciple Warns Christians to Reject Wicked in Fear of Sin's Contamination

Scripture—1 Corinthians 5:9

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
WHILE OUR MANNER of living in our western world is far more comfortable, due to modern inventions, than it was in the days of the early Christian church of which Paul writes, the same old evils that he wrote about so vigorously are still with us.

In Corinth, that great Grecian city—one of the most important cities of the Roman world—there was much wickedness. Paul had established a Christian church there, but he is aware of the sins of the citizens of Corinth and the temptations confronting the members of his church there, so he writes with vigor, wisdom and love to the disciples there of their most pressing problems.

First he takes up the subject of immoral living. Word has come to him that one of their number was living with his father's wife, and that the brethren not only did not rebuke him, but actually seemed proud of his iniquity.

Paul reminds the Corinthians that "a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump." Keeping such a man in their church might contaminate many, or the whole church, as a rotten apple in a basket or barrel would, if left among the good fruit, in time cause all to become unsound.

"Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person," he writes. Immoral living brings its own punishment in the physical and spiritual destruction of the sinner. This we know.

Paul writes: "What? know ye that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?"

"For ye are bought with a price: (the Crucifixion of Christ); therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's."

When you are tempted, think of these words of Paul's written so long ago, but as trenchant today as they were then.

Next Paul takes up the matter of quarrels among the brethren, and rebukes the taking of these troubles to heathen courts so that the defrauded may be revenged.

"Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren? But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers. . . . Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren. Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God?"

As far as we know Paul was not married. He may have been of course, and the wife died, but nowhere does he mention her. He believed in marriage, however, according to his letters, and he even suggested that if a sanctified brother married an unbeliever, he should not leave her, and the same for the sanctified wife who wed an unbeliever.

"For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband, else were your children unclean; but now they are holy."

"For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?"

Now as to the problem of eating meat that had been offered to idols, which Paul takes up next, a word of explanation seems necessary, so I quote R. C. H. Lenski.

"The pagan temple rituals, and many state occasions, festivals, the lives of families and of individuals, all involved sacrifices to the gods and the participation of larger or smaller circles in the feasts connected with these rituals."

The desire to participate in such feasts, united with the obligations of family connections or of friendship, raised the question, how far a Christian might go in this regard.

A part of the animal was burned on the pagan altar, the rest was prepared for the feast that followed. Meat that was not consumed at the feast could be taken home and eaten there, and a Christian invited to dine with a pagan family might have such meat set before him."

Now Paul's opinion was that Christians, believing only in the one God, knowing there were no other gods, might eat such meat. "But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither if we eat, are we the better; neither if we eat not, are we the worse."

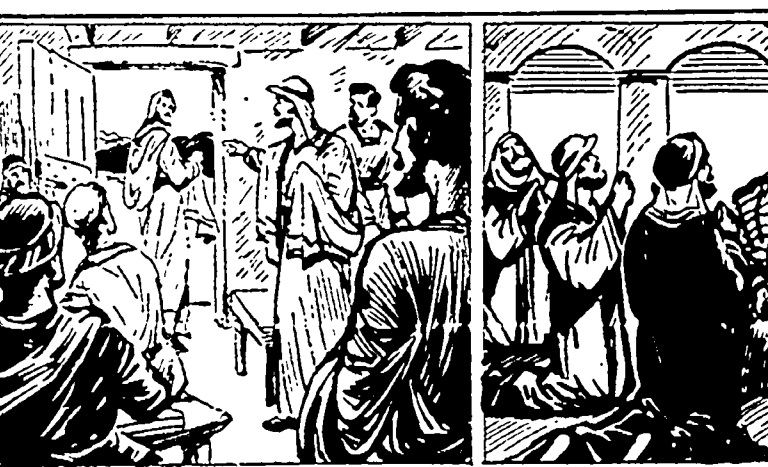

"But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak. For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols. And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?"

Christians should not only live temperately, and love one another for their own salvation, but also for the example they will set for those with whom they come in contact.

And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things.

"But I keep under my body and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway."

Problems of the Christian Conscience (Temperance Lesson)

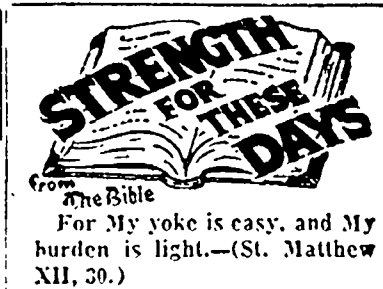

St. Paul writes to the Corinthians that if they found that one of their number was living immorally, they should "put away from among yourselves that wicked person."

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON By Alfred J. Buescher

Among Christians quarrels should be avoided, writes Paul, mentioning especially those who, when wronged, brought suits in heathen courts against brethren for revenge.

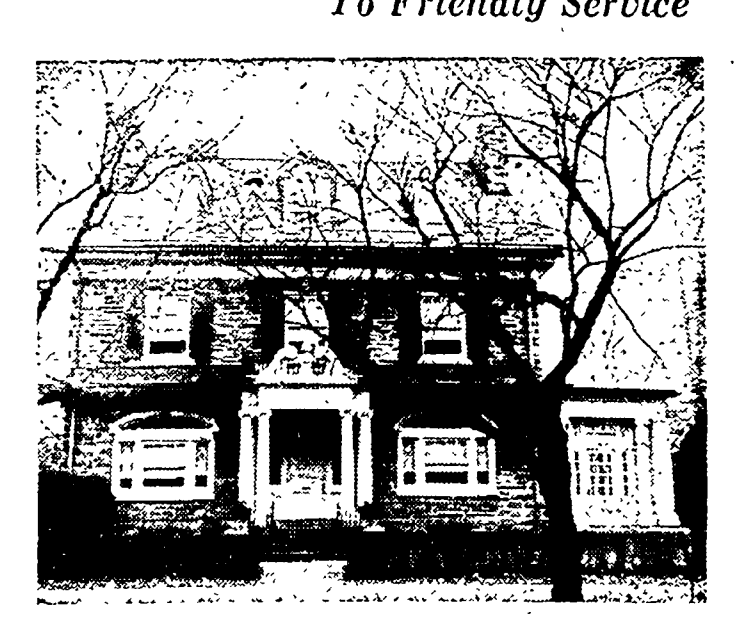

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light.—(St. Matthew XII, 30.)
There is no one among us today who is not carrying a burden of anxiety, even though he be strong in his faith. Christ Jesus offers us help—the greatest help on this earth—if we will but everlastingly believe on Him and enter into His love.

THE CHURCH ... as GOD sees it
Man and God see things differently. That's why man needs the Church—it helps him see things God's way.
But, strangely, even the Church itself looks different to man and God. To man the Church appears to be an organization. It has leaders, officials, boards, members. It has a charter, owns property, sometimes has a mortgage. And even though its aims are the highest in life, still its members are imperfect human creatures like ourselves.
To God the Church is an organism, a living thing. It is the Spirit of Christ touching men's hearts, forgiving their sins, awakening their faith. It is the Word of Truth commanding the attention and changing the lives of men, women and children. It is Divine Power transforming human sorrow to joy.
Man can learn how to see the Church as God sees it. But never by looking down upon the Church. Only by going inside the Church to worship God and looking UP.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his neighbor's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which preaches his moral code and gives him spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prayer for The Week

Actor

Give ear to my words, O Lord, consider my meditation.

Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto Thee will I pray.

My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord: in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.

For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: neither shall evil dwell with thee.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible verse is Micah 6:8—

"He has showed you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?" (RSV)

It seems to me to be the most adequate expression in one single verse of the characteristic note common to Judaism and Christianity, of a man walking in companionship with God, while obeying God through his just and kind treatment of his fellow men. It reminds us that there is no right and true love of God which denies justice and kindness to our fellow men, so that the true worshiper of God must always be seeking for justice and kindness to others. And at the same time it reminds those who fix their hearts only on demands for justice, that man has also a duty to walk humbly in the sight of God.

The Japanese Priest Said: "DOMINUS VOBISCUM"

It was early Sunday morning in Tokyo. A cosmopolitan congregation had assembled in the Catholic church for the first Mass of the day. Along with the Japanese present, there were English, French and Portuguese sailors, the family of a Belgian diplomat, Filipino business men and a sprinkling of U. S. Military Police.

The Japanese priest was compelled to start the service without an assistant to answer the prayers. He had hardly begun the Mass, when a burly GI rose from his seat, walked to the altar and took the place of the absent server.

"At first," he said afterwards, "I felt a little strange serving a Jap priest in a Jap church. But after he turned around and said in Latin: 'Dominus vobiscum'... I felt just the way I did when I served Father O'Malley in our church back home."

"Dominus vobiscum!"... "The Lord be with you!"

How familiar and homelike those Latin words sounded... to the English, the French, the Portuguese Belgians and Filipinos... for they had heard them Sunday after Sunday in their own church at home.

Despite their language differences, each could follow the prayers of the Mass... and the actions of the priest. For each had a double-column prayer book—one column in Latin, one in his native language.

Many services of divine worship in the Catholic Church are conducted in the native language of the people. But the Mass... the official and world-wide act of Catholic worship... is generally conducted in Latin because this dead language never changes and is most appropriate to express the fundamentally unchanging worship instituted by Christ at the Last Supper.

Perhaps you have heard Catholics speak of the Mass... or have seen them thronging to Mass on Sunday and other days. If you would like to know more about the Mass... and why the Mass attracts millions of Catholics to church regularly... we will be happy to send you a free pamphlet explaining the Mass and reasons behind it in a clear-cut manner. Write today... ask for Pamphlet No. 6-N.

Pottstown Hospital's A. C. Seawell Named To State Association

A. C. Seawell, administrator of Pottstown hospital, yesterday was elected a member of the 11-man board of trustees of the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania at a convention in Atlantic City, N. J.

A. C. SEAWELL

In his new post Seawell will help direct the affairs of an organization representing more than 250 Pennsylvania hospitals.

A veteran of seven years at Pottstown hospital, Seawell has held a number of posts in the hospital association. He has completed a term as president of the Eastern regional division of the association, and a term as chairman of the State association's council on public relations.

In his public relations post Seawell has been responsible for engendering State-wide support for increased State-aid to hospitals to help defray the high costs of rendering charity care.

He is a member of the Pottstown Rotary club, and is president of the Minute Men. He is a trustee of the First Baptist church and is a fellow in the American College of Hospital Administrators.

CONFERENCE OPENS BEDFORD, May 22 (AP)—More than 300 family physicians opened the fifth annual meeting today at nearby Bedford Springs of the Pennsylvania Academy of General Practice.

Classes to Be Confirmed

and the teaching, customs and history of the Church.

Tomorrow they will assume publicly "by the vows that were made for them at baptism by parents and sponsors.

In the Rite of Confirmation the class proceeds to the altar after the prayer of the Church is offered. There they make certain confessions and renounce the devil and all his works.

They assent to the faith of the Apostles Creed and promise "by the help of God" to be faithful to the Lutheran church.

Then the group kneels and each is confirmed by the laying on of hands.

AS THE pastor places his hands on the head of each class member he says:

"The Father in heaven for Jesus' sake, renew and increase in thee the gift of the Holy Ghost, to thy strengthening in faith, to thy growth in grace, to thy patience in suffering and to the blessed hope of everlasting life."

To this each confirmand now replies "Amen," and the group rises.

The pastor shakes the hand of each class member and extends to them the privilege of participating in the Sacrament of the Altar and the other privileges of the Church, and urges the other members of the congregation to receive the new communicants.

Largest class to be received tomorrow morning is that of St. John's Lutheran, South Pottstown. The Rev. George F. Eichorn, pastor, will confirm 14 young people and receive five new adult members.

Choir of Bethel AME Sings at Conference; Ordination Is Slated

Sixteen men and women of Bethel AME church choir sang last night under the direction of Kenneth Hines at a public session of the First Episcopal district conference of the AME church in Philadelphia.

The choir appeared on the program at an "education night" session of the five-day annual conference.

Irvine auditorium, on the University of Pennsylvania campus at 32d and Spruce street, West Philadelphia, was the scene of the program.

The Rev. Enoch N. Martin, pastor of Bethel AME, and Mrs. Martin were among those attending the conference session last night.

Leo Hudson attended a previous session of the conference at Jones tabernacle, 21st and Diamond streets, Philadelphia.

The conference will continue today with ordination ceremonies. Bishop D. Ward Nichols of the First Episcopal district is presiding at the sessions.

TOMORROW at the 3 p. m. closing session of the conference the bishop will read the list of appointments for pastors.

The Rev. Martin, who has been at Bethel AME for three years, may be assigned to a new church at that time, although it is possible he will be returned to Pottsville last night.

Pastors and delegates from the Philadelphia (including Pottstown), Delaware, New Jersey, New York, New England and Bermuda conferences are attending the district conference.

Red Atomic Stockpile Growing, General Says

DALLAS, Tex., May 22 (AP)—Gen. Nathan Twining said tonight there "can be little doubt" that US atomic bombers can penetrate the best defenses Russia can devise and destroy the basic support for the Soviet war machine.

The General, chosen by President Eisenhower to be the next chief of staff of the Air Force, coupled his remark with a warning. He said the United States must face the fact that the growing Russian atomic stockpile may soon be sufficient to cripple American industry if the new Russian long-range Air Force can deliver it.
